In case he/ she takes unilateral decision to do so, his/ her credits (pay and security) in the DET shall stand forfeited.
13. Unless otherwise specified, all temporary employees shall be on probation for two years. In case their performance, efficiency and behavior are satisfactory during this period, their services may be confirmed in writing. A confirmed employee in the service of DET will enjoy all facilities and privileges due to him/her duly approved by the Management such as LPP, gratuity, maternity leave, study leave, privilege leave, (half pay leave) and/or other benefits notified by the management from time to time. 16. On expiry of the contract of a contractual employee, a fresh contract may be entered into on such terms and conditions as the management may decide after recording a break in service of the employee not exceeding six days for which no emoluments shall be paid nor any attendance recorded. Further, for the purpose of experience certificate, each period of contract shall be considered as separate tenure and will not be added to denote continuity of service.
17. After the expiry of the ad hoc period of an employee, his/her services shall be converted to the category of temporary employee, (provided there is a suitable vacancy and he/she is eligible for the post) after recording a break in his/her services. The service rendered as an ad hoc employee will not be counted for the purpose of determining the total length of regular service in the institute. A separate certificate for the same, however, will be available on request in writing.
18. Inability to join after availing long leave, vacation, holidays and/or unauthorized absence from duties would constitute a break in the service of the employee. The decision regarding re-employment of the defaulters would rest with the Competent Authority.
19. Notwithstanding anything otherwise contained in Rule 6, services can be discontinued/terminated on 15 days notice or 15 days salary in lieu thereof from either side in case of contractual and ad hoc employees.
